

Research Projects

The Ismaili Special Collections Unit is engaged in a number of research projects including cataloguing as well as analysis of the manuscripts in the IIS Collection. These manuscripts are from various geographical areas and time periods. Over the past decade, the Institute has published catalogues of Arabic manuscripts. For more information regarding these catalogues, please click here. The ISCU is working on a catalogue of Persian and Indic manuscripts as well as a catalogue for coins which are part of the IIS Collection.
